Topple in Defeat.

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 13.—(P)—An aroused democracy tonight had shoved a republican machine—built up through an unbroken 18 years of power in office—holding—into the discard and elected a governor and two of the three congressmen in the rock-ribbed republican stronghold of Maine.

Only 13 of the state's 632 voting precincts were unreported from yesterday's election, which preceded the canvass in the rest of the country by two months—and they held such small numbers of registered voters that they could not affect the results in the gubernatorial contest or those in the second and third congressional districts.

Louis J. Brann, mild-mannered Lewiston lawyer, had a lead of 1,265 votes but, inarguable with the tabulations so near completion.

Standing for Governor.

The vote from 619 precincts was: Brann, democrat, 118,958; Martin, republican, 117,693.

Burleigh Martin, who comes of a long line of political office-holders and was president of the state senate two years ago, lost even his home city of Augusta—the state capital—in the slowly sniping piling up of votes the democratic chiefs engineered.

The congressional fights in the second and third districts—both won by the democrats—saw the third failure for former Governor Ralph O. Brewster in his efforts to re-enter politics, and the final arrival of Edward C. Moran Jr., young democrat, in the Rockland, who lost to the republican gubernatorial candidate in the 1928 and 1930 elections.

Brewster fell before the onslaught of John G. Ure, the former mayor of Bangor and now an automobile dealer.

With 12 of the 274 precincts missing.

France Guillotines Slayer of President

PARIS, Sept. 14.—(Wednesday.)—Dr. Paul Gorguloff, Russian physician who shot and killed former President Paul Doumer last summer, was executed on the guillotine at 5:52 a. m. today.

Gorguloff died just as dawn was breaking. The execution was carried out swiftly and just 40 seconds elapsed from the time he descended the steps of the guillotine, which brought him from the prison until his head rolled into the basket.

DEMOCRATS HAIL MAINE VICTORY; LANDSLIDE SEEN

Leaders View Outcome as Forerunner of Success in November Presidential Election.

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN.
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(P)—Democrats throughout the nation tonight hailed their victory in Maine as a forerunner of success in November, while republican campaign leaders said it would stimulate activity which would bring about President Hoover's re-election.

The president himself telegraphed to Everett Sanders, republican national chairman, that the result in the Pine Tree state "imposes need for renewed and stronger efforts that the people may fully understand the issues at stake."

Governor Roosevelt, speeding west on a stumping tour, called the result "all for the good."

He grinned from the back platform of his train, as crowds at the presidential nominee, was on his way east to join his running mate. As his train stopped in Durant, Okla., he declared:

"The people are not going to sustain an administration such as we have had for the last 12 years, the election in Maine clearly shows."

"When a republican was introduced to him, he said:

"Maine's gone democratic, why don't you make it unanimous?"

Senator Felix Hebert, eastern republican.

Gov. Russell Asked To Respite Hulseys

Basing his plea for a respite for William and Fred Hulsey, convicted of murder two years ago in Polk county, upon the opinion of two supreme court judges and the fact the prison commission is not now in session, James A. Aldred, Atlanta attorney, Monday made an informal plea to Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. that the men be released from the electric chair in Milledgeville Friday.

In his letter to the governor Mr. Aldred said that the principal witness against the Hulseys was now believed to be insane and that new evidence had been discovered. He also set out that two of the supreme court judges who reviewed the appeal had said the men were entitled to new trials despite the adverse ruling of the high court. The Hulseys were convicted of killing Fred Jones.

The Hulseys Tuesday were removed from the Floyd county jail at Rome to the death cell at Milledgeville. Warden Proctor said all arrangements for the double execution Friday morning had been completed.

3 Georgia Army Posts Get $910,000 for Housing Work

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(P)—The war department today announced a public works program calling for early expenditure of $56,741,260. Florida will get $741,000 of this for rivers and harbors and Georgia will get $910,000 for army housing projects.

Fort Benning, $650,000; Fort McPherson, $140,000, and Fort Oglethorpe, $120,000.

The fund is part of the $200,000,000 of the $322,000,000 authorized by the Garner-Wagner relief act.

Allotments include $26,077,260 for rivers and harbors, $15,500,000 for flood control and $15,164,000 for housing at various army posts.

The Memphis district received $6,500,000 under the flood control project and the New Orleans district was second with $3,500,000.

The Florida projects to benefit are:

PRESIDENT DAVILA RESIGNS IN CHILE TO CLIMAX REVOLT

Revolutionists, Headed
by Chief of Air Force,
Takes Over Government
Without Bloodshed.

By the Associated Press.

The affairs of four troubled South American republics reached a critical stage yesterday.

Chile's air force overthrew President Carlos Davila with a threat to bomb the presidential palace unless he stepped aside. General Bartolome Blanche was named acting president, and said he would carry out the program of socialism.

Brazil's federal troops captured strategic Cruzeiro, which commands the rich Parahyba valley communication route to Sao Paulo, the rebel capital.

Bolivia called out three more classes of reserves for the undeclared war between Bolivia and Paraguay over the long-disputed Chaco jungle between them. She told the League of Nations she was on the defensive.

Paraguay's army announced that the battle for control of the strategic Fort Boqueron area of the jungle had continued fiercely through its fifth day, and was extending to near-by fortifications. She had previously disclaimed responsibility for the fighting.

DAVILA IS OVERTHROWN WITHOUT BLOODSHED

SA. TIAGO, Chile, Sept. 13.—(P)—A Chilean air force threat to bomb the presidential palace today overthrew President Carlos Davila. The movement was carried out without bloodshed.

Tonight a revolutionary group headed by the chief of the air force, Colonel Arturo Merino Benitez, set up a temporary government with General Bartolome Blanche, commander-in-chief of the army, as acting president.

(Both Colonel Benitez and General Blanche have in the past been supporters of former President-Dictator Carlos Ibanez, who now is in exile in Argentina. General Blanche was Ibanez' secretary of war at one time.)

President Davila resigned in mid-afternoon a few hours after he had resigned his cabinet in an effort to avoid another of the several crises that have harassed his regime.

In that alignment General Blanche accepted the portfolio of the interior, one of the strategic positions in any Chilean government, and the president evidently had hoped to avoid further difficulties.

Resignation Demanded.

But the situation remained uncertain until noon, when a committee headed by Colonel Benitez, called on the president and demanded his resignation.

Davila declined to step aside, and

Convention To Consider
Demand for Immediate Payment by U. S.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13.—(P)—National headquarters of the American Legion announced tonight that a resolution calling for immediate payment of the adjusted compensation certificates of World War veterans would be introduced at the Legion convention session tomorrow morning.

The announcement came after a day in which opponents of the cash bonus and supporters of a vigorously worded resolution of censure for President Hoover both found themselves in the minority in subcommittees.

The minorities were still in a fighting mood, however, and floor battles on both questions were presaged.

Mrs. Crisp Asks Repudiation Of Unjust Attack on Husband

MRS. CHARLES R. CRISP

BY R. E. POWELL.

Last April when hundreds of Georgians were besieging Congressman Charles R. Crisp to announce as a candidate for the United States senate, and he hesitated, those importuning him to throw his hat in the ring wondered.

When Senator William J. Harris had been buried long enough for the proprieties to permit, Congressman Crisp gave his friends this assurance: "If I cannot do it, I cannot do it."

"Mrs. Crisp is in Washington. My future and my happiness are interwoven with her future and happiness. I shall talk with her over the long distance telephone and if she consents I shall make the race."

Twenty-four hours later he announced his candidacy to newspapermen at the Terminal station, en route back to his post as acting chairman of the powerful ways and means committee of the national house of representatives.

Last night Mrs. Crisp, standing before the mike for the first time in her life, asked her audience to pardon her "if I comment to each one of you Charles R. Crisp, who, in public life, in private life as a husband, as a father and as a Christian gentleman has measured up to such high standards as to win the unqualified indorsement of his wife."

Campaigning, Mrs. Crisp said in the parlor of the Crisp suite at the Election Results

By the Associated Press.

Candidates for local, state and national offices were chosen in primaries in eight states yesterday with prohibition a major issue in some of the contests.

In Michigan two supporters of the dry laws who were defeated in 1930 sought to lead on the basis of eastern Vermont voters gave a three-to-one lead to Representative Ernest W. Gibson, republican, who favored re-election, against a republican opponent.

Senator E. D. Smith, who ran on the democratic platform, including its prohibition repeal, defeated former Senator Cole L. Blaise in South Carolina's run-off primary for the democratic nomination.

In Washington the republican primary gave Senator Wesley L. Jones, who sponsored the Jones "five-and-ten" enforcement law, a narrow lead over Adam Beller, the candidate, for his party's nomination to the senate, but were too few to indicate the outcome.

Former Representative Grant M. Hudson and Louis C. Cramton, republicans, who sought to regain the seats lost to Representatives Seymour H. Person and Jesse C. Wolcott, held slight leads in the Michigan contests.

Hudson and Cramton were outstanding prohibition leaders during their previous house service.

Representative John H. Overton, running for the democratic senatorial nomination in Louisiana, with the support of Senator Huey Long, early in the morning led over Senator Edwin S. Bransard.

Senator George H. Moses, prominent in national republican politics, was renominated in New Hampshire.

In Arizona, Governor George W. P. Hunt was trailing R. E. Moer in early ballots in the democratic gubernatorial race.

The unofficial returns showed Blaise, twice governor and for six years a colleague of Smith in the senate, to be trailing his opponent by the largest margin of his political career.

INSULL RECEIVERS REPORT DEFICIT OF $226,510,977

Effort To Prop Falling
Investment Structure
With Frantic Purchases
Disclosed by Auditors.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(P)—An auditor's report blazoned in red figures today the staggering deficit of $226,510,977 on the balance sheet of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., an investment trust.

One of the leading suits in the house of cards Samuel Insull built above his vast empire of public utility operating companies that cross the American continent, Insull Utility Investments, Inc., had but $9,721 cash in the bank when it collapsed in receivership last April. Other holding and operating utilities companies headed by Insull also went into receivership last spring and he retired to Paris.

Its liabilities totaled $258,003,526, overbalancing only $31,492,549 of assets.

Thus had the paper profits of its thousands of stockholders turned into overwhelming losses.

Responsibility Not Fixed.

Responsibility for the debacle was not fixed by the accountants. There was only the hint of the auditors that inconsistencies in the bookkeeping system prevented a showing of losses on the accounts from the beginning of its organization, in January, 1929.

United States District Judge Walter C. Lindley was in Danville, Ill., today and the report of the auditors, Arthur Anderson & Co., was filed in his absence by the receivers, George A. Cooke and Calvin Fentress.

Something of the story, tragic for the stockholders, of Samuel Insull's effort to prop his falling investment structure with frantic purchases, was told in the receiver's report.

In his struggle to retain control of his gas, electricity and transportation systems he came to grips with Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland financier, who bought at inflated prices. The report showed Insull paid Eaton $28,000,000 for securities worth only $25,027,425 at the open market price.

On June 2, 1930, Insull bought from Eaton 42,900 shares of Commonwealth Edison Company stock at $310 a share for $13,299,000, although the market value then was $13,299,000. He purchased 30,300 shares of Peoples Gas, Light & Coke Company stock at $319.75 for $10,005,000 when the market value was $9,688,425. And he bought 6,800 shares of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois at $300, for $2,040,000 when market quotations would be $2,040,000.

The Anderson audit said that in Eaton 42,900 shares of Commonwealth Edison Company stock at $310 a share for $13,299,000, although the market value then was $13,299,000. STANLEY S. BLAND.

STABBING VICTIM PROMISES TO GIVE 'LINE' ON ATTACK

Mystery Deepens After Pool's Interview With
S. S. Bland; Robbery Is Not Believed Motive.

Mystery in the early morning stabbing of Stanley S. Bland, former street car operator, deepened Tuesday night when Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Eboles revealed that Bland, in a moment of consciousness, had informed him that he would give the chief "a line on it" this morning.

Baffled for almost 12 hours, since Bland was found with a severe gash in his throat, detectives had almost given up hope of obtaining a clue, when the chief visited Bland at Grady hospital and was able to converse with a wounded man during a brief interval of consciousness.

"Bland promised me he would give me a line on it tomorrow morning," Chief Eboles said, after the interview.

Poole said he had learned nothing definite during his talk with Bland. The only fear of the chief was that death might intervene to seal the wounded man's lips, but late Tuesday night it was said some slight improvement had been noted.

At that time it was not believed a second blood transfusion would be necessary, although Grady doctors were prepared for that emergency. Earlier in the day he was given one transfusion, the blood being donated by R. J. Tidwell, a fellow street car man. Bland rallied slightly, but again lapsed into unconsciousness.

An unidentified negro, found Bland lying on a small plot of grass at the Stone bakery on Highland avenue, shortly after 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. This negro ran into the

Yates Makes Tourney; Billy Howell Fails

Atlanta this morning is looking to another native son to take the place of Bobby Jones in the golfing world after Charlie Yates, 19-year-old sensation, qualified Tuesday for the national amateur golf championship at Baltimore. Yates scored a 149 for the 36 holes, seven strokes back of Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati golfer, who lagged a 142 to win medal honor.

Francis Ouimet, defending champion barely qualified when he turned in a 151, one stroke under the limit. Billy Howell, Richmond youth who up until now had been blazing quite a name for himself in the golf world, failed to make the select circle, being 17 strokes back of the leader.

Full details of the qualifying rounds will be found in the sports section of this issue.

SIX-YEAR RECORD ABOVE CRITICISM, SAYS LUTHER STILL

In a final statement made public Tuesday night, Luther Still, candidate for re-election to the legislature from Fulton county, pointed out that throughout the campaign not one of his opponents has criticized his six years' service in the legislature, and that of more than 500 bills he introduced in the legislature during that time, no one of his rivals had dared attack their intent or results. Still delivered his last address at the city hall at College Park Tuesday night. It was one of the largest political gatherings at which he has spoken during the campaign. The audience enthusiastically received the incumbent candidate, cheering many of his utterances. Still expressed confidence in the outcome of today's primary. He announced he is in possession of more than 500 letters from railroad men praising him for his legislative record, which showed he had voted 100 per cent for railroad legislation.

GLASSFORD CALLS AIDES TO 'CARPET'

Three Inspectors Asked To Report on Statements About Need for Troops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Brigadier General Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, still denying he advised calling out federal troops during the bonus army riots July 28, today demanded written reports from three inspectors who have been quoted in the controversy over the use of soldiers in evicting the marchers.

While rumors were current that Glassford's resignation may be asked, his friends are convinced that the tall former soldier will not quit under fire. The need for federal troops the police chief questioned again after District of Columbia commissioners had backed up the justice department in placing responsibility upon police and the police superintendent.

Reports Requested. Glassford asked written reports from Inspectors E. W. Brown, L. H. Edwards and T. R. Bean as to any statements they may have made to the district commissioners concerning the necessity for calling out the troops.

The demand followed publication of a letter from Dr. L. H. Reichelderfer, president of the board of commissioners, to Attorney General Mitchell. In this letter the three inspectors were quoted as having declared their belief that "had the arrival of troops been delayed, further bloodshed and death could not have been averted."

The controversy arose with Glassford's statement saying one of the assertions in the report of Attorney General Mitchell to President Hoover was "in conflict with police records or with facts known to the police department."

Glassford's statement, in part: "With the great majority of the unemployed veterans who co-operate with the police and with no orders to extend the repossessed area, I am firmly of the belief that no situation would have arisen beyond the control of the police."

The first actual encounter, he added, was confined to a narrow point on one side of the route of the government property which police had repossessed from bonus marchers.

"The second assault," the statement continued, "occurring nearly two hours later, in which two veterans were shot, was halted almost instantly. This was a spontaneous affair, involving less than two dozen participants on both sides."

"For three hours thereafter—until the troops arrived—there was no disorder."

the censure resolution, and member of the subcommittee considering it, said it would be dealt with in a minority report.

Banners Are Barred. Plans of the Nebraska delegation to carry anti-bonus banners in the annual parade today were abandoned when police and military authorities persuaded the Cornhusker contingent not to do so because of disorderly result. The parade was staged in typical Legion style.

Members of the Nebraska and Missouri delegations, who had been positive against seeking immediate cash payments for veterans, said they would take their case to the floor in the hope of persuading their opponents to agree on some sort of compromise. The Missouri delegation had gone on record favoring the postponement of any bonus request until later.

The Legion parade was staged without the participation of Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, who had planned to march as a member of the Oklahoma contingent.

Hurley Not in Parade. Secret service men, Legion and police officials said they persuaded Hurley to take the reviewing stand with other distinguished guests instead of marching. They said they did this to eliminate any possibility of any "unfortunate incident" in the line of march.

Boos mingled with cheers as Hurley mounted the reviewing stand in Multnomah stadium, scene of the spectacle. He ignored this and gave the Oklahoma war whoop as the delegates from his home state passed.

It was the second time a crowd had greeted him with mingled feelings. He was booed and cheered yesterday when he made a short speech of greeting at the convention.

Escorted by secret service men, an arm car and state and city police, Hurley was the object of all eyes as he left the thronged stadium to take a plane to Huron, S. D., where he will speak Thursday.

Because of his departure, Hurley will not be forced to vote against his convictions when the bonus question comes on the convention floor Wednesday or Thursday.

An outspoken opponent of such payment, he nevertheless was seated as a delegate in the Oklahoma department representation and had declared in favor of immediate cash payment he would abide by the expressed attitude of Legionnaires of that state and would vote as they had dictated.

Much applause came from the spectators as Hurley led the cheering for the Oklahoma delegation.

Cheers, Boos for Hurley. Hurley also was booed and cheered by a mixed assembly at the national commander's dinner last night when he clashed with Floyd Gibbons, noted war correspondent, over the use of troops to break up the veterans' camps in Washington.

When the Nebraska contingent first formed for the parade it had huge canvas banners reaching entirely across the street reading: "The American Legion was formed to serve the nation, not to exploit it. Nebraska votes 'no' on the bonus."

Meanwhile, replies to a telegram addressed to all presidential candidates except Hoover asking their attitude on the bonus question, was being awaited at Nebraska Legion headquarters.

The only reply received so far was from Norman Thomas, socialist candidate. Other candidates were reported by commercial telegraph companies to be traveling.

Thomas' reply said he was opposed, at this time, to general payment. Made a special order business by National Commander Henry L. Ste-

Estate Totaling 25 Million Is Left by George Eastman

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 13.—(AP)—An estate of $25,561,641.60, or approximately $5,000,000 more than the estimates at the time of his death, was left by George Eastman, the kodak magnate, according to the transfer tax affidavit filed today with Surrogate Joseph M. Feely. Of the total estate $8,319,553.92 was in cash, the affidavit showed. Eastman committed suicide by shooting himself at his home here last March 14. He was 77.

A large part of the estate is bequeathed to educational and philanthropic institutions. A gross value of $24,408,748.80 in personal property and $1,152,892.80 in real estate is shown. Debts, including approximately $3,000,000 in unpaid gifts to European dental dispensaries founded by Mr. Eastman, total $3,674,574.00; funeral expenses of administration, $500,000, making total deductions of $4,185,738.54 and providing for a net estate for distribution of $21,375,903.06.

The University of Rochester is the residuary legatee and benefits from Mr. Eastman's will in the sum of $19,287,143.28. The second largest beneficiary is the Rochester Dental Dispensary, which receives $1,028,438.18.

A surprising disclosure was the fact that Eastman carried only $16,951 in life insurance, all of which was payable to his niece, Mrs. Ellen Anderson Dryden, of Evanston, Ill. Mrs. Dryden also was bequeathed $206,015, including $100,000 in cash, $100,000 in New York city bonds, now valued at $91,500, and personal items, including silverware, jewelry and household effects.

Mrs. Alice K. Hutchinson, for years secretary to the philanthropist, was left $100,573, represented by $100,000 bonds of Jersey City, N. J., with accrued interest. Eastman also left to Mrs. Hutchinson a trust fund of $100,000, out of which she was instructed to pay $20,000 to the organization promoting the 13-month calendar, and finance the care of a second cousin of Eastman's now living in Los Angeles and the education of two sons of another second cousin.

The palatial Eastman home was valued at $650,392. It was bequeathed to the University of Rochester. Paintings in the house, of which Eastman was a great collector, were valued at $1,195,307, while his total wardrobe was valued at only $250.

Among his securities were 265 preferred shares of Martin Johnson African Expedition Corporation. During his two hunting trips to Africa a few years ago, Eastman made his headquarters at the Martin Johnson camp. His African expeditions also were recalled in the "accounts receivable," which listed a claim of $3,000 against the Egyptian State Railways. This was the outgrowth of a fire on the train carrying Eastman across Africa, in which he lost valuable hunting equipment and trophies.

TRIO TAKE TO AIR FOR HOP TO ROME

from Floyd Bennett field at 6:16 a. m., eastern standard time.

At 8:55 a. m., a big plane believed to be the American Nurse was sighted as it passed out to sea near Provincetown, Mass. From Cape Cod, Ulbrich planned to fly 1,000 miles due east along the forty-second parallel and then veer slightly south so as to strike the Spanish coast in the vicinity.

Although Dr. Pisculli, commander of the flight, hoped they could set the plane down at Rome, he announced Miss Newcomer would step out of the plane and descend by parachute at Florence, Italy, as a tribute to Florence Nightingale.

The trio had waited for favorable weather for several weeks. Today the conditions along their southern route were described as "ideal."

"Flying Laboratory." So many tests were planned aboard the American Nurse that it was nicknamed "The Flying Laboratory," Dr.

Pisculli had watched for several weeks over the diet of Ulbrich and Miss Newcomer, who is co-pilot. He planned to continue his observations and to make a report on the effect of long distance flying on the human body.

As a mascot and also as a part of an experiment, Dr. Pisculli carried a woodchuck. He said he had a theory that many flights failed because the cabin filled with gas and that the woodchuck would feel the effects of such gas before the other occupants did.

Dr. Pisculli also carried specially concentrated food and apparatus of his own design for use in case of a forced landing. This included a three-pound "still" for distilling sea water.

The plane was the one in which Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon flew around the world. Pangborn saw the fliers off, gave Ulbrich advice about the ship and told the trio they had "everything in your favor."

Miss Newcomer, who is 28 years old, is a former nurse. She has had about 150 hours in the air and has made several parachute jumps. Before getting into her place beside Ulbrich today, she ran back to an automobile and got a small handbag she had packed with clothes "to use on the other side."

Ulbrich is 31 years old and has about 3,500 hours in the air to his credit. He was born in Copenhagen of German parents and came to this country in 1923.

Dr. Pisculli will be returning home if he succeeds in flying to Italy. He was born at Ferrandina, near Naples, and came to the United States 32 years ago.

REP. CRISP'S WIFE IN CAMPAIGN TALK

Piedmont Tuesday afternoon, "is a brand new experience to me."

"I'm happy that it's over and I'm very happy to feel that my husband is going to the senate."

Mrs. Crisp, the former Miss Jennie Hollis, has traveled the full 8,000 miles of the campaign trip with her distinguished husband, Frank Stapleton, of Americus, a nephew, has driven them. She has heard her husband make most of the 125 speeches of the campaign. She has been his constant advisor.

"I will be glad to get back to my work in our little cottage in Americus," she said. "And I know nothing will please the two of us as much as to be back with Virginia and Charles Frederick."

Virginia and Charles Frederick are grandchildren of the congressman, the latter having been named for the congressman's father, one time democratic speaker of the national house.

Does Own Housework. A little later this fall they plan to go back to Washington and again occupy their modest apartment.

"And even if Judge Crisp is a senator, Miss Emily Woodward, life-long friend of the family, interposes, 'Jennie will continue to do her own house work and marketing. She knows more about the markets of Washington than the farmers who bring the produce there to sell.'"

This is what she had to say to her invisible audience Tuesday night about the campaign and her husband: "Somewhere I have felt that these good women of Georgia, I have been with my husband during all of the arduous campaign and have had to silently stand by and see the man I love, whose life has been as clean and courageous as any man could be, maligned in a way that has cut deep into my soul."

Burden Has Been Great. "Everywhere I have met women whom I know were to love them and I have added to my treasure house of friends. These happy contacts have taken much of the horror that has come from the attacks made on my husband's honor and good name. Somehow I have felt that these good women knew I was the one who was suffering and they made me feel that they were not in sympathy with such a vicious type of campaign."

"May I say to those that I have met and to those I would like to meet, to all the women of Georgia that their confidence and the daily and hourly help of God have made it possible for me to go through with this terrible campaign? May I extend to you my gratitude and love for all you have done for us?"

"And will you pardon me if I commend to each one of you Charles R. Crisp, who in public life, in private life, as a husband, as a father, as a Christian gentleman has measured up to such high standards as to win the unequalled endorsement of his wife."

"I hope you will go to the polls tomorrow, first to vote for a man who is qualified in every way for the office he seeks, also to repudiate the unjust attack upon a good man."

EDUCATION BOARD REDUCTION BEATEN

Proposal Called for School Body's Divorce From Council Influence.

The Atlanta board of education Tuesday afternoon turned down a proposal to reduce the board to five members and divorce the board from any influence of council in administration. The measure, although the measure provided that schools be given 25 per cent of the revenue of the city, an increase of 2 per cent over present charter provisions.

Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of the board, offered the proposal, which was a petition to the Georgia legislature to effect the change, but on motion of Commissioner William C. State, of the second ward, the board voted five to four to table it on a roll call, demanded by Gilliam.

The plan provided for a board of five, one member to come from each of the quadrants into which the city is divided for numbering purposes and the fifth member, who automatically would be president, from the city at large. All voters would ballot on all candidates.

Under the plan to divorce the schools from any influence of council, control, Gilliam's measure provided an increase of 2 per cent in present charter provisions.

$1,500,000 Fund Sought.

Commissioner E. R. Sweet obtained passage of another resolution asking that $1,500,000 be sought from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for repairs to schools and construction of new annexes. He said Maddox and Murphy Junior High schools and 40 elementary schools are in need of repairs.

The board also passed a resolution asking council not to involve water receipts in any guarantee for sewer improvements on motion of Sweet, J. Ira Harrell, president; Sweet and the administration department were selected as a committee to convey the board's action to Mayor James L. Key.

Dr. Noah Baird, of the seventh ward, obtained passage of a resolution opposing further reductions in salaries of board of education employees until other city employees have been cut in line with the reductions he claimed education attaches have been forced to accept.

Dr. Baird, Sweet and Mrs. E. A. Wilson were constituted a committee of three to investigate fees charged to school children and the board approved a plan to allow children who reach the age of five years within 30 days from September 12 to enter kindergarten.

Gilliam announced he would offer his measure at the next meeting of the board and said he had assurances that it would pass.

Changes in Personnel.

The following resignations of teachers were accepted:

Miss Cornelia Greer and Eva Carter (negro) on pension; J. A. Caldwell, Mrs. Virginia Burns, Miss William Jerry Cox, Mrs. Mary H. Dowd, Miss Mary J. Goodrich, Mrs. E. A. Griffin, Mrs. Hester H. Reichstag Speaker Rebuked For Overriding Dissolution

Goering Protests Non-Appearance of Von Papen and Cabinet Members at Committees.

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—(AP)—President Paul von Hindenburg tonight rebuked the Nazi speaker of the Reichstag, Wilhelm Goering, for "overriding a presidential decree of dissolution."

The aged chief executive apparently was referring to Herr Goering's refusal to dissolve the lawmakers yesterday when the Junker chancellor Franz von Papen, placed a decree signed by the president before him. The president's note of reproof was in reply to Herr Goering's protest to the president over the non-appearance of cabinet members before Reichstag standing committees.

In official quarters it was stated Herr Goering's note omitted the customary courtesy of phraseology used in addressing the president, and charged the cabinet members with a breach of the constitution.

The president replied emphatically with a refusal to admit such accusations, and charged the Reichstag president had failed to recognize the new legal status created by his decree of dissolution.

The president added that as soon as this recognition was accorded the cabinet members will be able to attend committees. The president's note was also short of the usual features of polite correspondence.

In a second letter, this time said to have been received in polite terms, Herr Goering gave the president his version of yesterday's happenings at great length. The Reichstag leader virtually challenged the president's interpretation of constitutional law, and contended he could not dismiss the Reichstag twice for the same reason, namely, non-appearance in the Von Papen government.

Herr Goering added that the Reichstag expected an immediate rescission of the emergency decree and resignation of the Von Papen government on the ground that 95 per cent of the German people had refused to place confidence in that government.

Incidentally, the Reichstag speaker complained that Chancellor von Papen had first placed the decree face down, and then turned it over to the people.

The letter concluded:

"I express the firm hope that you, Mr. President, will recognize the legality of the Reichstag vote (overthrowing Von Papen) and withdraw your confidence from a government which the nation rejects overwhelmingly. The Reichstag and yourself, both elected by the people, must be one, so that the nation will shall remain united."

Meanwhile, Adolf Hitler, at meeting of the Nazi leaders here, indicated a reiteration of the policy to fight to the finish "with and for the people against a reactionary clique."

MOUND BUILDERS' BONES FOUND IN PENNSYLVANIA

ELK LANA, Pa., Sept. 13.—(UP)—Discovery of 45 skeletons in a mound near here, gives absolute proof that the mound was a prehistoric burial place, according to U. S. Fisher, state archaeologist and member of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission.

Forty-five skeletons, the largest measuring seven feet, five inches in length, were excavated yesterday from a mound of earth and stone in a county headland high above the Monongahela river. Fisher and his aides made the discovery after four days of digging. There is a wooded hill one and a half miles from here.

"Discovery of these old folk, distinct from Indian inhabitants, gives us absolute proof that we had mound builders in Pennsylvania, 10,000 years ago, just as in Ohio, West Virginia, Missouri and the southwest," Fisher said.

TENNESSEE EX-BANKER CHARGED WITH FRAUD

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Abe Lewis, former vice president of the Bank of Commerce & Trust Co. here, was at liberty on bond of $25,000 today, following his arrest late yesterday on warrants charging forgery and fraudulent breach of trust involving $105,000.

Lewis was charged with having converted $70,000 worth of the bank's securities to his own use and with forging the name of a depositor to a $3,500 note. He also was alleged to have permitted a friend to borrow money on collateral that had been used for another note.

MISSING VIRGINIAN, 77, FOUND DEAD IN SWAMP

TOANO, Va., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The body of Dr. A. M. Snow, 77-year-old Stafford courthouse physician who has been missing since he disappeared during a hunting trip Saturday afternoon, was found in a swampy ravine about two miles northwest of Toano about 10 o'clock this morning.

An inquest was begun immediately at the scene and after superficial examination witnesses expressed the opinion he had been dead less than 24 hours.

The body was found standing in a semi-erect position, leaning against an embankment with his hand pressed against his forehead as if resting.

DR. PAUL REISS, 66, DIES IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Dr. Paul Louis Reiss, 66, an outstanding eye specialist, died Monday afternoon at his residence here.

Dr. Reiss was a graduate of Tufts University college of medicine. In 1890 he took a four-year course in the University of Paris and attended medical schools in Berlin and Vienna receiving degrees from each of the universities.

He returned to New Orleans in 1896 and entered practice, having studied under some of the world's foremost medical men.

Dr. Reiss was a leading clubman of the city.

BAO DAI INAUGURATED EMPEROR OF ANNAM

HUE, Indo China, Sept. 13.—(UP)—Wearing the imperial bonnet and with a jade scepter held jauntily in his right hand Bao Dai, boy emperor of Annam, who has a passion for ping pong and American phonograph music, ascended his throne today to inaugurate his active reign.

Having concluded six years of education in French schools and sport fields, the 19-year-old emperor assumed control of his state in a brilliant ceremonial, capped by a dinner of regal magnificence in the imperial palace.

Dons of princes of the royal blood, mandarins and government officials genuflected before Bao Dai as he was welcomed to the throne for the first time as emperor of the country. The formal welcome was extended by the French governor general, M. Pasquier, and the tall, slim ruler replied in perfect French.

Bao Dai became emperor in 1926, succeeding to the throne of his father, Kai Dinh. In accordance with his father's wishes, he was sent to France for his education while a cousin, Tant Hat Han Sat, occupied the throne as regent.

Since the young emperor took so actively in the westernized life, the former chief of his father's cabinet, Thai Van Toan, was sent to France to persuade him to return to the throne. And having completed his education, Bao Dai agreed.

Roosevelt Promises Fee Splitting Inquiry

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt, in a letter made public today, assured the city affairs committee of New York that prompt and "aggressive action" to "clearly existing abuses" in connection with New York city physicians in compensation taken would be taken by him immediately upon receipt of a report by a special committee.

The governor's announcement was contained in a letter to Paul Blanshard, executive director of the city affairs committee, in reply to a suggestion by Blanshard that the governor authorize a special inquiry into the alleged fee splitting practices.

Mr. Roosevelt, in his recent hearing of charges against former Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, questioned witnesses at length concerning the fee splitting.

Investigations by the Holstadter legislative committee resulted in charges of fee splitting by Mayor Walker's brother, Dr. William Walker.

Lone Bandit Holds Up Bank in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Flourishing a revolver, an unmasked white man robbed the Exchange bank at Five Points, in the heart of the fashionable southside, of approximately $1,000 today before locking two employees in the vault.

The cashier summoned help by using a telephone inside the vault. It was 10 minutes after the holdup before they were released and no one could be found who saw the bandit leave the building. Russell said the money, estimated by him to be about $1,000 was taken from a teller's cage.

Girl Victim of Poison Says She Is Atlantan

CLEARWATER, Fla., Sept. 13.—(AP)—A young woman giving her name as Rene Swanson, 20, 74 West Tenth street, Atlanta, was admitted to the Clearwater hospital today from poison hospital attaches said was self-administered.

Miss Swanson and a companion, Miss Margie Lovejoy, also of Atlanta, occupied a cottage at Clearwater Beach for several days.

Attendants said Miss Swanson's condition was serious but it could not be determined how serious.

Miss Lovejoy could not be located tonight for a statement. Hospital attendants did not know what caused Miss Swanson to take poison.

Rogers Hornsby Sued For $8,412 Income Tax

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—(AP)—An income tax lien for $8,412 was filed in federal court today against Rogers Hornsby, recently ousted as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

The lien covers a tax claim for additional income in 1929 of $7,016.26. Penalties and interest bring the total claim to $8,412.

Examiners said they found money in the bank not listed in his tax return, which they claim he did not explain at conferences with them. They said he paid the tax on his baseball income.

DR. WILLIAM COTTON RESTS IN DURHAM, N.C.

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 13.—(UP)—Funeral services for Dr. William J. H. Cotton, professor of economics in Duke University for the past 12 years, who died Sunday night in Duke hospital of heart trouble, were held this morning at 11 o'clock from the residence.

Interment was in Maplewood cemetery here.

Dr. Cotton was 54 years old and a native of Philadelphia. He was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He became critically ill last Friday.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Minnie Lord Cotton, and one son, Albert H. Cotton, Durham, reserve correspondent for the Raleigh bureau of the United Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Mayor Anton Cermark, of Chicago, returned from a European vacation to night, his tanned and beaming face bearing out his statement that he "felt much better."

American Arms Group Cuts Geneva Expense

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—(UP)—While delegates from other nations continue to occupy quarters in the swankiest of Geneva's hotels, the United States delegation to the world disarmament conference, because of restricted finances, moved today from the Hotel Des Bergues into an office equipped with second-hand furniture.

The new American office is on the Quai Wilson, above the quarters previously occupied by the Hungarian League delegation. The congressional appropriation for the delegates' expenses was reduced to $30,000.

HOOVER TO URGE REORGANIZATION

Roop Ordered To Map Program for Revision of Federal Structure.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Acting under authority of the national economy bill, President Hoover announced today that "for the first time in years of agitation" detailed plans for a wholesale re-organization of the government would be placed before congress next December.

The president told newspapermen he had just instructed J. C. Roop, director of the budget, to initiate a series of investigations looking toward the preparation of "executive orders for re-organization of the whole structure" of the federal government.

"These orders covering the entire executive establishment," he said, "will be completed and presented to the congress immediately upon its reconvening in December."

Previous Declarations.

Since before the time of his acceptance speech in 1928, Mr. Hoover at various times has stressed the necessity for a rearrangement of the executive structure.

Under his administration several such steps have been accomplished. Among them were the recent reduction of the shipping board from a seven to a three-man directorate, consolidation of the radio commission into the department of commerce, elimination of various activities within the veterans bureau and the shift of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department.

Under the terms of the economy law, the president must place executive orders before congress for what he described today as "regrouping, consolidating and reducing the number of bureaus and commissions, eliminating overlap and duplication of effort."

If these executive orders do not meet with congressional objection within 60 days, they become effective automatically.

The president did not discuss details today of any of his intended re-organization. Within the last six months, however, he has suggested that taxes would be taken by him immediately upon receipt of a report by a special committee.

He has proposed the establishment of a public works administration, who would supervise virtually all government construction; a personnel administrator, who would handle all such work for all departments; an assistant secretary for public health; an assistant secretary for merchant marine; an assistant secretary for conservation; and assistant secretaries for agricultural research and agricultural economics.

Under these offices, the president would combine similar activities now spread through various government departments or conducted separately by each department.

COMMUNISTS SEEK NAMES ON BALLOTS

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Sept. 13.—(AP)—North Carolina electors for the communist party today secured an order from Superior Court Judge A. M. Stack directing the state board of elections to show cause why their names should not be printed on the state ballots for the November election.

The election board has ruled any party, other than republican and democratic parties, which desires the names of its electors on the state ballot must present a petition to it signed by 10,000 voters.

Judge Stack's order is returnable September 24.

Ethics, Deportment, Efficiency To Be Taught in Police School

Instruction in ethics, deportment and efficiency will be featured in the Atlanta police department training school now scheduled to begin within the week, according to announcement by Chief T. O. Sturdivant, Tuesday. The exact date of the opening and the hours of instruction will be given later, he said.

The school has been planned to furnish instruction and training, which will make officers more efficient. Lectures on evidence, rules, law and court procedure will be given by prominent members of the Atlanta bar, the first to be delivered by Courtland S. Winn, assistant city attorney.

First lessons, according to Sturdivant, will be given the policemen on minor law infractions, such as idling and loitering, vagrancy and other charges. Later the officers will study finer points on misdemeanors and minor crimes. Attendance at the school is compulsory and classes will be arranged so that members of all watches can attend.

35,000 Expected To Ballot In 85 Fulton, DeKalb Boxes

More Than 75 Candidates for Nomination Appear. Early Voting Urged in Both Counties.

Despite predictions of showers today, it was indicated Tuesday that 35,000 of the 50,000 qualified voters of Fulton and DeKalb counties will visit the 85 ballot boxes scattered throughout the two counties as a climax to several spirited races in the state primary.

The electorate is faced with a list bearing the names of more than 75 contestants, including nomination of a senator, a congressman and a dozen state house officials.

J. C. Harrison, Fulton county registrar, estimates that 25,000 Atlantians will ballot during the day, and A. H. Almon, secretary of the DeKalb county executive committee, expresses the opinion that from 9,000 to 10,000 would vote in DeKalb. They both urged that the voters go to the polls early in the day.

Almon explained that citizens in the Edgewood district, DeKalb county, which includes all Druid Hills, may cast their ballots either at the Inman Park garage, 1,200 Euclid avenue, or at Buchanan's courtroom, DeKalb and Whiteford avenues.

Fulton's registration list carries 55,623 and DeKalb's about 12,000. In addition to the state jobs, the Fulton county ballot carries the names of 17 aspirants for seven jobs, and DeKalb 32 for 11 positions for which nominations will be made.

Fulton and DeKalb counties and Rockdale county will ballot in a four-cornered contest for a congressman from the fifth congressional district, and Fulton will have the distinction of selecting the senator from the 35th state senatorial district from a field of two. The district is composed of Fulton, Clayton and Milton counties.

Under the courtesy agreement between senatorial districts only Fulton voters will cast ballots in the latter contest because it is Fulton's term, through the rotation system, to name the senator.

An army of 400 managers and clerks Tuesday afternoon were given final instructions for handling the primary by Hewitt Chambers, secretary of the Fulton county democratic executive committee, and George Bell, chairman of the sub-committee.

The precincts for the primary, which includes old Milton and old Campbell counties and the Roswell district, will open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m., central standard time. Those in DeKalb county will open at 6 a. m. and close at 6 p. m., central standard time.

Fulton County Precincts.

Following are the official voting precincts for Fulton county: First Ward—Stewart Pharmacy, 201 Mitchell street, S. W. (at Mitchell and Forsyth streets).

Second Ward—Barnett Fulton county courthouse (at Pryor and Hunter streets); B-Hen's Pharmacy, 508 Pryor street (at Pryor street and Georgia avenue).

RUSSELL IN FULFILLMENT OF PROMISE

Governor, Concluding Campaign, Lays Claim to 115 to 128 Counties.

Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., in his final statement in his campaign for the United States senate here Tuesday night, said the "threat of war to collect" foreign debts, which he said his opponent, Congressman Charles R. Crisp, was proclaiming "is the argument of the international bankers—pure and undiluted."

"No sane person would go to war to collect the debts and such action is not necessary," Russell said. "If it had been," he continued, "the democratic party would not have declared in its platform in favor of the collection of these debts. All that is necessary is to have a government that is immune from the influence of the international bankers and the blandishments of foreign chancellors, and will insist on preserving the rights of the American people and their property."

Russell charged that the congressman had reversed his position during the campaign on many issues and that he had the temerity to charge that he had the support of the power trust. He charged that "vested interests" were supporting his opponent in the campaign.

The governor read a letter, which he said was signed by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, democratic presidential nominee, expressing Roosevelt's appreciation "for your invaluable services not only in the pre-convention campaign in Georgia but also for your splendid work at Chicago as chairman of the Georgia delegation." The letter said Russell's nomination, pleased me greatly.

Russell made the prediction that he would carry between 115 and 128 counties in the primary today. "There has never been a more important election fought in Georgia," he said. "It will determine whether or not the people's government still belongs to the people or whether or not the people's government is subject to manipulation by big interests who can control elections."

"I am confident that the people of Georgia will, tomorrow, give me the opportunity of working hand in hand with Governor Roosevelt to restore this government to its rightful owners, the people of the United States, and rescue it from the predatory interests that have succeeded in manipulating it for so long."

"I hold and espouse today the same principles I outlined in my opening campaign speech. The close of the campaign finds me without a single regret for a single statement that I have made. I have not dealt in personalities or abuse of my opponent. I have discussed public records and public questions and have not made a single charge or statement that I would not have been glad to make in a joint discussion with my opponent anywhere in Georgia."

LENINGRAD, Sept. 13.—(UP)—The 100th anniversary of the founding of the world-famous Alexander Pushkin theater, celebrated here tonight, has drawn many leaders of the Russian artistic world from Moscow to the former Russian capital. The celebration is to continue for four days.

The opening of the theater in 1832 has remained an important milestone on the road of Russian culture. After the revolution the theater was renamed the Leningrad Academic Theater of Drama, but its classical spirit and much of its pre-revolutionary repertoire remained unchanged.

More than 200 foreign theatrical people, in addition to prominent writers, were invited by the soviet government to attend the jubilee. It began tonight with presentation of excerpts from the first play produced on the theater's stage—"Prince Potemkin." The theater has been re-dedicated to look as much as possible as it did 100 years ago.

PRECINCT WORKERS FOR WILLIAM M'RAE IN MASS MEETING

An enthusiastic mass meeting was held in the Ansley civic room Tuesday afternoon by the volunteer poll and precinct workers for William G. McRae, candidate for solicitor general of the Atlanta judicial circuit.

Four hundred and fifty-three volunteer workers were assigned to duties in the various precincts, and 297 automobiles have been donated to take care of those who are unable to reach the polls without aid, it was reported after the meeting.

The enthusiastic workers are pledging many more workers to be in the field at an early hour to assist them, a campaign statement said. "This group includes some of the most prominent Atlanta business and professional men and is drawn from all walks of life."

A careful check-up of the various precincts indicates that a majority of them will show a large percentage for McRae. It is generally predicted at this time that William G. McRae will go into office with the greatest landslide in the history of Fulton county.

Income Tax Battle Revived in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 13.—(AP)—The income tax fight popped up again in the senate of that state today as administration leaders led a successful attack against the Faulk bill to prohibit "log-rolling" for candidates or proposed constitutional amendments.

Describing the bill as "aimed directly at the income tax amendment," which the senate passed two weeks ago, administration senators won, 17 to 14, in their move to re-refer the measure to the committee on privileges and elections.

The house passed, 83 to 16, the Tunstall bill setting up a corporation to borrow $6,000,000 to retire outstanding salary warrants held by teachers in the public schools and instructors in the higher institutions of learning.

The loan would be repaid within four years from the general fund of the state treasury.

COMMON TABLE SALT OFTEN HELPS STOMACH

Drink plenty of water with pinch of salt. If bloated with gas add a spoon of kaffir. This washes out both stomach and bowels and rid you of all gas. Leading druggists.

Clear-Cut Victory Seen by Murrell

"Supreme confidence" that he will be nominated in today's election was expressed Tuesday by Kenneth R. Murrell, candidate for representative in the legislature from Fulton county, in a final statement which he expressed his gratitude to friends for their support. "I feel a supreme confidence that the people will give me the victory," he said.

The overwhelming evidence of support coming to me from all sections of Fulton county evidence the appreciation of a clear-cut, courageous stand on important questions of governmental operation," the card said. "A great wave of support from the average people of Fulton county has come flooding to me since my public announcement of my stand relative to public utilities and the costs to the consumer of their service."

THE TRUE TEST TODAY.
Patriotic regard for the best interests of the state should, more than ever before, be the actuating motive in today's voting.

In the contest for senator every vote should be cast with the sole view of electing the man who is best equipped to serve the state.

In making his selection of the man to fill this important office, each voter should apply the acid test of qualification. Each voter should ask himself, or herself, whether in the event of being personally and vitally interested in a matter coming before the senate he would prefer to be represented by an able and seasoned statesman, or by a tyro at the business who would not be able to effectively warm his seat under two or three years.

Representative Crisp's ability and his genius for leadership have been demonstrated in many a brilliant battle on the floor of congress and as a member of, and as the leader of, the most important committee of that body. He knows the things that are to be done, and how to do them. He is at the pinnacle of his career in influence and strength and there is no man in congress who is better fitted to serve his state, nor to see that his every interest is safeguarded.

There could be no possible doubt as to which of the two candidates a man would select for his personal representative in a matter before congress in which he is directly interested. That being true, every voter should ask himself if he is willing to do any less for the public interest than he would do for his own.

That should be the measure of today's voting. It may not appeal to office holders who are beneficiaries of the state's political machine, but it should, none the less, be the motivating purpose behind the vote cast by every Georgian today.

Seldom has the issue between patriotism and politics been so clearly cut as it is in this contest.

The Constitution has full faith in the patriotism and wisdom of the people of Georgia, and that is why we are confident that today's balloting is certain to return a sweeping endorsement of the candidacy of Judge Crisp.

FRUITS OF MEDDLING.
The furor aroused in Japan by the jingo press of the country over photographs taken of commercial buildings in some of the larger cities can be traced directly to the inexcusable meddling of the United States in the Sino-Japanese controversy of last winter.

The sensationalism indulged in by these Japanese newspapers is no different from the jingoism of some American newspapers a few years ago, and the objective is the same—the arousing of popular indignation against another nation for alleged antagonistic designs. The much heralded "yellow peril" was no more existent then than is the charge that the United States is now securing photographic information for aerial attacks on Japan, and increasing its armed forces at the nearest ports for the purpose alone.

Despite the injustice done Japan by the jingo press of the country some years ago, the people of that nation were not affected in their high regard and deep sense of obligation to the United States by the aid this government had given them in their remarkable progress during a half century from a backward oriental country to one of the great powers of the world.

But when their country became involved in the controversy of last fall and winter, over matters which they considered vital to their very existence, and the United States proceeded to warn, threaten, protest and handicap them in every possible way, it is not surprising that the people of Nippon began to wonder whether or not Uncle Sam really was their best friend.

Thus arose an opening for the jingo press to start beating the drums, and the recent uproar is the result.

It will take many years to regain the valuable confidence and respect of the Japanese people which we have lost to a great extent during the past 12 months. It is a loss that can be laid directly and wholly to blundering diplomacy at a time when wiser counsel would have prescribed a course for our state department more in line with the attitude adopted by the other great powers.

H. G. Wells says we should take the world away from the politicians and give it to the economists. If we're ever able to take it away from the politicians, our idea would be to keep it for ourselves.

"AS GOES MAINE."
The vote of Maine is usually a certain barometer of the presidential weather. It is the first state to hold an election during a national campaign and, although overwhelmingly republican, the results of its voting have never failed to have significant bearing upon the outcome of the national contest.

Normally Maine is republican by from 40,000 to 50,000, though its republican majority has reached beyond 90,000. As bearing upon the national election a republican majority of 20,000 has for many years been accepted as the barometric zero of the presidential weather.

If the republican majority exceeds that figure it is generally conceded that the republicans will hold their own in the national election, and the prospect of democratic gains has been measured by the degree to which Maine's republican majority falls below that figure.

Any lessening of this majority is a danger signal for the republicans. Not since 1914 have the democrats been successful in carrying the state and the sweep in Monday's election, resulting in the naming of a democratic governor and two congressmen, with the third congressional place being held by the republicans by a slender margin is a sure indication of the way the presidential wind is blowing.

It is a certain forerunner of the revolution of public sentiment in every section of the country.

And that it means Roosevelt and a democratic congress in both branches there can be no doubt.

Women of Paraguay have sworn to discontinue the use of cosmetics until their country is victorious. This is an outstanding example of patriotism—that they should be willing to sacrifice their own conquests in favor of those of their country.

Women fall style hats will cover one eye, according to a fashion note. That's all right with us—women are disposed to see too much nway.

When one of our famous film actresses sang to a bunch of prisoners, several of them burst into tears. Something should be done about unusual punishment being given our prisoners.

How to settle the war debts and the bonus question: Transfer our European debts to the ex-service men and let them collect.

Rescue in Greenland
ANGMAGSALIK, Greenland, Sept. 13.—(AP)—After a two-day search along the east Greenland coast by aviators and seamen, the Hutchinson "flying family" was found today on a beach less than 40 miles from here. They had cranked up their transatlantic plane in a treacherous reef-filled fjord.

A party of eight, including George R. Hutchinson, his wife and two little daughters, were picked up by the British trawler Lord Talbot, which had been scouting around a position given by the Hutchinsons in an SOS call since Sunday afternoon.

Governor Knud Odendouff, of Greenland, advised the Danish government at Copenhagen tonight that Lord Talbot had arrived at Angmagssalik late today with the Hutchinson family. He added that the plane was forced down by a storm and smashed on a reef by the waves.

Reserve Orders
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The following Atlanta-area men have been ordered to the reserve corps: U. S. A., according to announcement made by Secretary of War Hurley: Ernest Peterson Fleming Jr., 3044 Hickman place, S. E. captain, Infantry reserve; Charles Sydney Hammond, 3014 Electric Ave. major, major, engineer reserve; Paul Stanley Woodward, 119 Cherry street, S. W., major, coast artillery reserve.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW
BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.
End of World.
One evening I came to a Caucasian village, had supper on the porch of the inn and sat staring into the distance where a white-walled castle seemed to cling against the granite mountain side. The innkeeper was an old, toothless individual who had conferred an enormous favor on me with his chunks of green cheese and crackling hot bread. "I would like to visit that cloister," I said to him.
"Go ahead," he replied. "Your legs are good."

"How far away is it?"
"Oh, about twenty miles," he came back.
"Were you ever up there?"
"Never," he said, shaking his head.
"How long have you lived here?"
"All my life," he said. "Sixty-nine years."

German Situation.
The Von Papen government decided to remove the socialist ministers in Prussia from office in the last weeks preceding the general reichstag election. Why was this done? The government wanted to act against the communists and not against the socialists. Socialists and communists are enemies. Are they really? Or is it with them as with that phenomenon known in natural science as "osmosis," of which the definition is: a mutual exchange of two similar and miscible fluids separated by a porous wall.

First National Celebrates 67th Anniversary as Bank

The First National bank of Atlanta is on Wednesday celebrating its 67th anniversary. It was founded on September 14, 1865, when the original charter under which it is now operating was granted by the government to the Atlanta National bank, one of the predecessors of the First National.

Then the city's population was only 10,000 and it was beginning to be rebuilt after its destruction by Sherman in 1864. There were no street cars, electric lights, telephones or other conveniences, and the assessed valuation of the city's property was less than the capital stock of the First National bank today.

With a capital stock of $100,000 the bank was organized by General Alfred Austell, who became its first president. W. H. Tuller was elected cashier and Paul Romare was appointed bookkeeper. These three completed the entire working force at that time and pending the completion of its banking quarters on the south side of Alabama street, between Whitehall and Pryor streets, the bank opened for business in the home of General Austell on Marietta street, on the present site of the Federal Reserve bank.

Trust Company of Georgia, of $17,000,000 and resources of over $100,000,000. Over 450 employees are required to serve the needs of its thousands of customers. In addition to its main office at Five Points, branch banks are maintained throughout Greater Atlanta. Its growth has been in keeping with the growth of Atlanta itself—from a city of 10,000 to one of over 300,000.

The stockholders of the First National bank own the controlling interest in the following group of important national banks in Georgia: National Exchange bank, Augusta; Fourth National bank, Columbus; the First National bank & Trust Company, Macon; First National Bank, Rome; Liberty National Bank & Trust Company, Savannah.

Other predecessors of the First National include banks well known for their service to Atlanta, the state and the south. They include the Lowry National bank, later in its history known as the Atlanta & Lowry National bank, the American National bank and the Fourth National bank. It was through a merger of the Atlanta & Lowry National bank and the Fourth National bank that the present First National bank of Atlanta was formed on November 20, 1923.

List of Executives.

Many of the leading citizens of Atlanta and Georgia have been presidents of these banks during their 67 years of service. Among them were General Alfred Austell, Paul Romare, Charles E. Currier, W. M. and R. J. Lowry, John E. Murphy, Colonel Robert F. Maddox, J. W. Rucker, W. L. Pool, Captain James W. English and others.

Officers of the First National bank of Atlanta today are as follows: Thomas K. Glenn, chairman of the board; John K. O'Leary, president; Robert F. Maddox, chairman executive committee; James D. Robinson, executive vice president; vice presidents, H. Warner Martin, Robert Strickland Jr., R. Clyde Williams, William T. Perkinson, James F. Alexander, J. Sherrard Kennedy, W. C. Adamson, E. A. Stubbs; Dameron Black, vice president and controller; Frank M. Berry, cashier; assistant cashiers, O. C. Bradford, Edward H. Daly, Samuel J. Fuller, T. E. Glenn, Henry B. Longene, Fred McSwain, Charles A. Rose, A. H. Stevens, Leo Stillman, H. G. Walker; assistant

Lie Detector Inventor Admits Machine 'Fibs'

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The inventor of the lie detector came out today with what he says is the truth about his invention, which has been widely used to tell whether persons are fibbing.

The machine, invented by Dr. John A. Larson, assistant state criminologist, won't tell a lie, Larson said, but he would not send a man to jail solely on its evidence, because the human interpretation of its records may be in error. There is a constant percentage of such error, ranging from 5 to 25 per cent, he said.

His revelation was made in a book, "Lying and Its Detection," released by the University of Chicago press.

cashiers and branch managers, Claude H. Blount, Paul Bowles, Ralph A. Huie, A. G. Matthews, F. W. Cooper; Herman Jones Jr., auditor; J. R. Redford Jr., assistant auditor; trust officer, H. Warner Martin; trust officer, and William T. Perkinson, trust officer.

PAPER CRITICIZES QUEEN MARIE'S ACT AT CHRISTENING

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The latest Rumanian sensation is criticism of Dowager Queen Marie by the Transylvanian newspaper Patria on the score that the recent Christening of the son of Princess Ileana amounted to a public demonstration that a link existed between the "discredited Hapsburgs" and the Rumanian royal family.

The newspaper declared editorially the ceremony was handled in a way "to suggest that a Hapsburg might one day have a hand in ruling Rumania, or that Rumania is eager to see the Hapsburgs restored."

Princess Ileana and the Rumanian minister to Austria also came in for criticism. Patria is the official mouthpiece in Transylvania of the Valda-Voed government.

Ileana's husband is the Archduke Anton, of Hapsburg. The Patria editorial said that the mother wanted her child born in Rumania but King Carol refused his permission. The birth took place at Moedling, Austria. In Moedling it has been reported that the Dowager Queen Marie put a small quantity of Rumanian soil in the child's cradle.

JENKINS EXTRADITION STUDIED BY LAFFOON

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 13.—(AP)—After hearing arguments and testimony Governor Ruby Laffoon today took under advisement the request of Governor Ross Sterling, of Texas, for extradition of Hubert J. Jenkins Sr., of Louisville, to Dallas for prosecution on an indictment charging him with kidnapping his 10-year-old son, Herbert Jr., eventual heir to part of a million-dollar estate.

Governor Laffoon asked the attorneys to furnish a list of witnesses but requested there "be no long-winded briefs."

Colman, Film Star, Sues Samuel Goldwyn

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—(AP)—An adventurous lover of the screen, Ronald Colman, filed a $2,000,000 damage action today against Samuel Goldwyn, Inc., motion picture producers, whom he accused of ridiculing his ability as an actor and attacking his character.

Colman, whose "Bulldog Drummond" impressed him on the minds of film followers as an adventuresome chap who liked his love spiced with danger, claimed written statements issued by the producers pictured him as being "drunk and dissipated."

The actor said the film company had been attempting to obtain agreements from him to perform acts which he said he was not obligated to perform and that this prompted the statements on which the suit was based. He asked $1,000,000 actual damages and an equal amount as punishment.

Two statements Colman claimed were made by the producers were set forth in his suit. One statement read, "He feels that he looks better for pictures when moderately dissipated than when completely fit." Another quotation said, "He believes that by getting slightly more than drunk he plays love scenes—well, more in love."

BURGERS, THIEVES ACTIVE IN ATLANTA AS WEATHER COOLS

Theft of between $150 and $200 and several boxes of cigars was reported to police Tuesday morning by W. R. McCollum, salesman for the J. B. Withers Cigar Company, who told police that after he parked his delivery car in the 200 block of Auburn avenue and went across the street to make a sale, the cash and goods were taken. A negro boy who told police he saw the robbery said six negro boys took the money box and cigars and fled.

D. C. Casey, who occupies a house with Dr. Wallace Rogers, prominent Atlanta minister, at 170 Waverly way, N. E., reported to police Tuesday that while he was away on a fishing trip during the week-end that burglars entered his apartment and made off with shirts, suits, shoes and other apparel.

Thieves entering through a window stole a pay telephone and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes from a filling station operated at 287 Candler road, S. E., sometime Monday night, according to a report made to police by H. G. Gazzaway, operator of the station.

WEATHERMAN SEES MODERATE WINTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Unless there is an unprecedented sharp drop in temperature, the weather man believes another moderate winter is in store.

That is the normal expectancy. Joseph M. Kincer, chief of the agricultural meteorology division of the weather bureau, said today, as a result of the upward swing in the thermometer beginning in 1926.

Records show that the weather moves in currents of a few cold years and then a few warm years, Kincer said. In the past, a change from one cycle to another has come gradually and while not forecasting definitely a mild winter, he said that indications pointed that way since there is no evidence yet that a change to sub-normal temperatures has begun.

SIDNEY C. SAULT, 33, INSURANCE MAN, DIES

Illness of Two Weeks Proves Fatal to Well-Known Young Atlantan.

Sidney C. Sault, widely known insurance man and state agent for the Hudson-Svea Insurance Company, died Tuesday afternoon at his residence at 580 Clifton road, N. E., following an illness of two weeks. He was 33 years of age.

Mr. Sault had been in the insurance business for more than 10 years, and was well known over the state. He was formerly connected with the Insurance Company of North America.

He was born in Atlanta and attended the public schools here. He was well known as a football player at Tech High school in 1916, 1917 and 1918, and was graduated from Georgia Tech in 1922. He was a member of a well-known Atlanta family, his late father, Sidney D. Sault, being the founder of the Atlanta Box Company.

Following his graduation from Tech, Mr. Sault became connected with the Southeastern Underwriters' Association, and later with the Insurance Company of North America, which he left last year to become state agent for the Hudson-Svea group of fire insurance companies on January 1, 1932. He had offices in the Hurt building.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Sacred Heart church and of the Capital City Club. Funeral services are to be held this afternoon at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, and interment is to be in West View cemetery. Business associates and friends will act as pallbearers and honorary escorts.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mildred Sault; his mother, Mrs. S. D. Sault, and a sister, Mrs. F. J. Blount, all of whom reside in Atlanta.

BOLL WORM BARRIERS LIFTED IN ARIZONA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The lifting of fumigation restrictions on interstate movement of cotton produced and ginned in the Salt River valley of Arizona and certain adjoining sections of that state and New Mexico was announced today by Lee A. Strong, chief of the agriculture department's bureau of plant quarantine.

Mr. Strong said the pink boll worm infestation, which was the cause of imposing the fumigation requirement several years ago, has been very largely suppressed as a result of eradication measures.

In view of the improvement in the situation, Strong said, the fumigation of the cotton by rollers or compressors would hereafter constitute sufficient protection against spread of the boll worm.

Other safeguards were left in effect.

TROPICAL STORM NO NEARER COAST

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The tropical disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico which has kept storm warnings flying from the Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and far northwest Florida coasts for the past 24 hours was reported practically stationary more than 100 miles southwest of the Mississippi river's mouth in a weather bureau bulletin tonight.

Still of undetermined intensity, but broadening in area, the center of the disturbance made little progress landward during the day. An advisory warning at 4 p. m., however, ordered a continuation of the storm flags on the Louisiana coast eastward from Morgan City, La. Earlier the Washington weather bureau had continued the warnings from Morgan City to Pensacola, Fla.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED AT RED MEN'S MEETING

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Great Senior Sagamore, Washington P. Wachter, of Maryland, became Great Inchoonah of the Improved Order of Red Men at the conclusion of the second day of their biennial national convention in session here today.

Wachter received the supreme torch and scepter from the hands of Great Inchoonah Edward R. Connor, of Washington, who now becomes one of past great Inchoonahs.

Arthur J. Ruland, of New York, great junior sagamore, succeeds Wachter as great senior sagamore. These changes were made by the law of succession prevailing within the order.

J. A. Kapps, great sachem, from Chicago, was elected great junior sagamore by acclamation.

Past Great Inchoonah Connor was elected to the post of great prophet of the great council, succeeding Judge Harry Cuthrell, of Portsmouth, Va.

Great Keeper of Records H. T. Stetser of Pennsylvania, was re-elected to that office.

W. P. Lightholder, of Missouri, was re-elected great keeper of wampum, which is the Red Men's treasury.

ALABAMANS INDICTED FOR 'RIDE' SLAYING

WETUMPKA, Ala., Sept. 13.—(AP)—An Elmore county grand jury has returned indictments of first-degree murder against Otis Goocher and Hiram Newton for the slaying of Fountain L. Fletcher on a lonely road near Millbrook nearly a month ago.

The slaying was termed by Montgomery police as "gang" work and Mrs. Fletcher said her husband was "slain for what he knew not what he had done."

H. L. DOHERTY NAMED IN $770,462 SUIT

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 13.—(UP)—Suit for $770,462.95 damages was instituted here today against Henry L. Doherty, doing business as H. L. Doherty & Co., charging the firm was responsible for a run on the Brotherhood Bank of Railway Clerks, national, which led to the closing and liquidation of the bank.

Rector Threatens To Make Barrel Permanent Home

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The Rev. H. P. Davidson, deposed rector of Stifford, threatened today to take up a permanent residence in a barrel near the gates of the palace occupied by the bishop of Norwich.

The clergyman has been exhibiting himself in a barrel for some time, as a means, he explained, of financing an appeal from the decision of an ecclesiastical court which recently convicted him of immorality. The police put a stop to that.

If the bishop of Norwich carries out the sentence imposed following his conviction, said Mr. Davidson today, "I might feel it my duty to engage a small site as near as possible to the bishop's palace, and take up a permanent residence there in my barrel as Diogenes did in his tub."

Today—the Birthday of The First National Bank of Atlanta

On September 14, 1865, the first national bank charter in Georgia was granted to this institution. During the 67 years of its usefulness to Atlanta and the Southeast this bank has grown to be the largest bank in the entire South.

Beginning with a capital of $100,000 when Atlanta had a population of about 10,000 people, and the city was still suffering from the ravages of war, the founders of this bank demonstrated their faith in the future of Atlanta and Georgia. They little dreamed, however, that Atlanta would now have a population of nearly 300,000 and this bank would have a capital investment of $12,000,000, and resources with its affiliated institution, The Trust Company of Georgia, of more than $100,000,000.

On this our birthday we begin a new year still filled with confidence in our section and with deep appreciation of the good will of our patrons which has contributed so much to our success. Today we pledge our best efforts to merit a continuation of their friendship.

On the record of our 67 years' service and experience we cordially invite new accounts.

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Two home runs today put a dent in the pennant hopes of the Pittsburgh Pirates and gave Ed Brandt, Boston's star pitcher, a 100th win, his fifteenth victory of the season by a 3-0 margin.

Brandt out-pitched Leon Chagnon through five scoreless innings and got a lead in the sixth when Bill Urbanek whaled out a home run with none on. In the eighth Wally Piatek, Boston's game-changer, making a direct price after a stellar day in the Jordan was the game's outstanding blitzer, getting three singles on his four trips to the plate. Brandt tamed the Pirates' slug-gers, turning back the Waner brothers very time they faced him.

The Pirates, however, made several scoring gestures, and one of them were the hands of Dutch Holland's sensational pitching. Another died when Jordan executed a snappy double play with Urbanski.

Both pitchers gave two passes and Brandt had two strikeouts, twice as many as his rival. Comorosky had nausual success against the Boston southpaw, getting two hits, one a double, out of four. Suhr was hampered by a two-bagger and a single, got no triple. The Pirates' offense, however, when the Pirates got Wilcox twins are brothers of Jimmy Wilcox, who is making an excellent showing at guard on the Tech varsity. They were all-state choices at Tyler last fall.

Cannon Sees Better Guards

Jack Cannon, the Tech line coach who spent the summer in Michigan, is well pleased with the material at his disposal. "They know more about blocking and are bigger," he pointed out. Cannon believes that Wilcox and Morris, sophomores, will help. He also thinks that Marzan Lackey will adapt himself to the guard after the shift from an end. Laws, Jones and Susong are other experienced men. Cannon sees a quartet of improved tackles, also, in Bob Tharpe, Tom Cain, Pee Wee Williams and Brady. Dean is slowly learning the game there.

Fowler Elected Duckpin President

At a special meeting of the Fire Insurance Duckpin league last night Forrest Fowler, of Travelers, was elected as president for the new season and succeeded Archie Johnston, who refused to accept the position of office. S. M. O'Neil, of America Fire, was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer.

Teams from Travelers, C. U. A. C. I. and S. A. Hartford and the American Fire will compose the roster for the new season and will run 30 weeks, played with a split-season basis.

The schedule will open the play for Tuesday, September 27, at 7:30 p. m., though a preliminary meeting of team captains is slated for next Tuesday, prior to opening night.

BULLDOG SQUAD IS REJUVENATED BY MEHRE TALK

Georgia Coach Bringing Squad Along Slower Than in Past.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 13.—Harry Mehre, who is busy building a bunch of green sophomores, a few reserves and a handful of veterans into a football team, divided his squad into the usual four teams this afternoon, lined them up alongside each other and then made them a speech, brief but to the point.

"You are not showing enough pep," said Harry Mehre. "You have been reading the newspapers and learned that you're going to be licked. But you're not licked yet, and until then let's go right along. Get out there and

And four teams of husky Bulldogs let out one of those rebel yells that presaged the downfall of Yale and N. Y. U. They started running signals down the field, chattering like magpies to one another. It reminded one of the terror that was busily being practiced behind bars for old guards and students to renounce over.

The first eight days of practice have revealed one interesting fact. Harry McEneaney is bringing his past. Before the war he had been one of the best in the nation—then now he has to deal with a lot of green material, men whose experience on the field is nil.

The Bulldogs are being drilled daily in fundamentals. Today, after a long session at the tackling dummy, during which the players and the guards were tackling, the boys went to Sanford field for practice blocking each other. The blocks went through punt formation defense for almost a half hour. Then they combined with the guards and backs for practice punting and blocking.

The linemen practiced charging, blocking and getting down under punts in the proper manner. During the last ten minutes of the afternoon practice the whole squad tried their hands at running down punts and arranging themselves in such a manner that slippery men couldn't weave out of their tails.

Rain, which began shortly after the morning practice, forced Harry Meyer to leave the day's first workout in the memorial hall gym. Three of the Bulldogs were on the slightly injured list today. Charley Oppor was nursing a sprained ankle, but will be back Wednesday. Lee Bruno is out for a week with a bad knee injury, but he, too, is expected back shortly. Graham Batchelor, the end who used to be a center, was afflicted only in his rack costume this afternoon. Batchelor had his knee operated on this summer and he is favoring it this week, giving the knee time to get used to work again. He will be ready to go by Monday.

On to SOISSONS!

At a recent gathering of the country's foremost bankers, industrialists and business men the spirit prevailed that the major financial crisis has been overcome: "We have withstood Chateau Thierry. We must prepare for the battle of Soissons."

THE mettle of our people has been tested and proved. The country is sound. The flight to the dollar has already begun. Hoarding has ceased. Confidence is steadily growing.

Business is refinding its courage and thinks no longer of retrenchment. Along all fronts the lines are forming for the advance. Get ready. You can't win your battle of 'Soissons' sitting in a dugout. Profitable business in increasing measure is here for those who go after it aggressively.

In two short months the equal of a full year's industrial payroll has been added to our wealth through the increase in security values. Rising commodity prices have tremendously benefitted both industry and agriculture, and are proving a powerful stimulus to trade. Conservative authorities estimate that over thirty billion dollars of new wealth has thus been created within the past sixty days.

Will your business share in the new buying power that is springing up? Will your products be selected—as the women and men of this country go to market with well-filled pocketbooks to buy the things they have done without? Remember it is characteristic of the American people to buy known products and known values.

Advertising intelligently and courageously applied will pave the way to increased sales and earnings. Many a business will date its growth to greatness from its victory at 'Soissons.'

Now is the time to lay your plans with the aid of a competent advertising agency. We would like to talk it over with you.

Swint-Johnson Rites Announced.

WEST POINT, Ga., Sept. 13.—Robert Johnson, of West Point, and Miss Onie Swint, of Lanett, Ala., were married at Opelika Wednesday, September 7, by Dr. A. B. Wilkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, in Opelika, in his study at his home. Accompanying them to witness the ceremony were Frank Cumbee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lawrence Hill, Mrs. Gay Dunn and Gerald Sheridan.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had intended keeping their marriage a secret for awhile, but in their excitement forgot to mention this to Dr. Wilkes. The Opelika paper published news of this marriage to citizens of West Point.

Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Swint, of Lanett, and of Chambers county. Her parents moved to Lanett when she was quite young and she was educated at Lanett school.

Mr. Johnson is the son of Mrs. John A. Johnson and the late Mr. Johnson. He was educated at the West Point High school, entering the employ of the First National bank, West Point, many years ago, and remaining in the employ of the Citizens Bank & Trust Company when the two banks were consolidated. He holds the responsible position of assistant cashier at the bank.

Children like the tasty Syrup

Brings quick, easy relief

Economical - Powder costs a penny a dose

Purely vegetable, safe for all

The famous laxative that meets every family need

THERE are many laxatives. One may cost too much for you. Another the children may not like. You may think one is too powerful. A milder one may not act as quickly, as surely as you want. But thousands and thousands know that Thedford's Black-Draught meets every reasonable demand for an economical, effective laxative.

Whether you use the Powder or Syrup is a matter of taste, or economy. Many families keep both always at hand. Both contain the same active ingredients that stimulate natural intestinal action. Both are purely vegetable, safe for all the family.

Your druggist sells Powder and Syrup at economy prices. Get one or both today and see for yourself why Thedford's Black-Draught has been the "first remedy" of thousands for 92 years.

Crowds Cheer Gov. Roosevelt On Trip Through Mid-West

Democratic Nominee Well Pleased With Results in Maine, Sees Victory in Ohio.

BY W. B. RAGSDALE.
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, presidential candidate, arrived in Albany today to begin a tour of the state of New York. He was met by a large crowd of his supporters and the governor-elect, who was taking his first trip to the state capital since his election. Roosevelt was well pleased with the results of the election in Maine, where he won a decisive victory. He expects to win in Ohio as well.

In a day filled with back-platform appearances, talks with political leaders in Ohio and Indiana and two press conferences at which he expressed pleasure at the result of the Maine election, the candidate found time to complete the speech on farm relief he will make tomorrow at Topeka.

Telling a crowd in Ohio of his pleasure at the outcome of the Maine election, Mr. Roosevelt added a prediction that Ohio, too, would be found in the democratic column on election day.

Late today, when the Maine result seemed assured, he sent a congratulatory telegram to Louis J. Brand, the successful democratic gubernatorial candidate.

For his appearance at Topeka tomorrow, the governor-elect will be joined by Speaker John N. Garner, his running mate for the vice presidency. The two will appear together at the steps of the Kansas state capitol, where a few weeks ago Charles Curtis, defeated the republican nomination for the vice presidency.

Probably the largest crowd that saw the governor today was that at Mattoon, Ill., where his train stopped for a few minutes to take on water. As in most of his other stops, at Laue and Bellefontaine, Ohio, and Indianapolis and Terre Haute, Ind., the governor did not speak.

He introduced his family and chatted informally, but when urged to make a speech reminded that he was to do so tomorrow.

Cheered at Bellefontaine.
At Bellefontaine, the crowd was considerably larger and Mr. Roosevelt stood for 15 minutes on the back platform listening to their wild ovation. He introduced his daughter, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Hall, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Betty Cushing Roosevelt.

"And this is my little boy, Jimmie," he added, nodding to the slender man standing close beside him.

"What do you think of Maine?" someone shouted.

"Isn't that good?" he smiled.

"Are you going to make me lie down in a park, like Mr. Hoover does?" asked a man. The crowd laughed and Mr. Roosevelt smiled.

"Frank, speak four or five words," another shouted.

"I'm going to speak on farm relief tomorrow at Topeka," the governor responded.

"Franklin," one man spoke up.

Business Definitely Better, Wholesale Shoe Leader Says

"Business has definitely turned upward," H. S. Collinsworth, president of Gramling & Collinsworth—oldest wholesale shoe house in Georgia—said Tuesday night in commenting on general business conditions.

Mr. Collinsworth has been connected with the firm for 38 years.

"Our business during August was the best, as a whole, since October, 1930, he said.

"Business so far this month has shown a very substantial increase over the same period last month.

"From all indications this fall and winter will be the most active, commercially and industrially, in the last two or three years.

"We note a growing feeling of confidence and optimism throughout the territory we serve—Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi.

Mr. Collinsworth emphasized that stocks of shoes—all kinds—are the

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:
I have been engaged to a girl and expected to get married pretty soon but she has done something that scares me off. We went to a party together and she left the party and went for a ride with another fellow. The next day she came home drunk. I still love her in spite of what she's done but I don't feel that I can marry her. Am I right? D. A. E.

ANSWER:
This is a question that must answer for yourself. For many reasons you should not be hasty in coming to a decision. A long probationary period will be necessary to determine whether or not the girl is depraved or simply weak and wishy-washy. Second, in the first sickness sense of loss and disappointment one is not able to think clearly nor come to wise conclusions about a catastrophe that rocks life to its very foundation. One cannot reason calmly about the cause of the occasion that led up to it, nor estimate its result.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

The Illuminating Double

Penalty Doubles are among the most powerful weapons in the possession of the defending players in the game of Contract. However, there is no declaration more abused by many players than this. When the decision is made to play a double, it is a decision that should be made with care. It is generally wise to follow the advice of the old proverb, "When in doubt, don't."

A close Penalty Double often furnishes to an alert Declarer the clue which permits the fulfillment of the contract. The following is an example of that fact.

North-Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The eventual Slam contract should have been reached, as North, while he held 4 honor tricks, had extremely barren distribution, but North made the Slam invitation bid of four notrump, South, with the extra length in clubs and the fact that he held the Ace of his partner's bid suit, was justified in accepting the invitation. West's Double, holding only 1 trick, was particularly atrocious. In the play, it furnished to the Declarer the opportunity to make his contract.

The diamond 10 was opened, won in the Dummy, and the club Ace driven out at once. West then cleared

Avalanche of Letters Pours In For Answers From Prince Shah

Prince Shah Babar, famed East Indian mystic, has been working overtime endeavoring to give every person attention possible to the avalanche of letters with questions that are pouring into The Constitution daily. In addition to his attention to all letters reaching him through the columns of this newspaper, the prince also is appearing in person at the Fox theater all of this week.

There he is answering questions from the stage and giving as many readings as his time will allow immediately following his stage appearance.

While Prince Babar will make every effort to answer all letters addressed through the columns of The Constitution, those that do not appear will be answered direct. Send your questions to him care of The Constitution and be sure and mention your birth date and include a stamped self-addressed envelope for reply.

Questions Answered.
Q. Have I a natural talent for writing and will I meet with marked success if I devote my life to it?—J. R. A. It would take me many years to answer that question. I would suggest that you carry this only as a side interest at first. You have developed concentration powerful enough to allow you to stand alone in this field of endeavor.

New Issue of "Georgia" Memorial to F. H. Abbott

"Georgia," the official magazine of the state chamber of commerce, came from the press here Tuesday morning in the form of a memorial to F. H. Abbott, secretary of the state organization and editor of the magazine, who died about 10 days ago.

The magazine carries as its leading article a story of Charles R. Crisp and his part in adding the state chamber obtain a livestock credit corporation in Georgia. There also is a story of the Eugene Talmadge as state commissioner of agriculture. The paper, in making its first appearance since the death of its editor, is edited by his son, Aubrey Abbott, of Waycross.

Toll of Ferry Blast Is Increased to 67

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The death toll of the steamship Observation blast rose to 67 today as the East river yielded up 22 more bodies.

Most of the bodies rose to the surface in the vicinity of the explosion, which tore the steamship apart and sent it to the bottom with a load of workmen last Friday morning. Others were found floating some distance away.

Meanwhile, federal, county and city authorities pressed their investigations to fix responsibility for the blast.

COATING THE JUNIOR MISS.
Here are fall days almost here and new coats for school ready to be considered.

An extremely cozy model—extra warmth inasmuch as it can be buttoned up snugly to the neck. The miniature view shows the neck left open, after resembling the polo type. Don't you think the deep round yoke distinctive?

You'll be amazed at how easily it is fashionable to any nothing of the saving in cost.

The original was in wine-red tweed, so smart and practical.

Tobacco brown diagonal monotone woolen is lovely too.

Style No. 783 is designed in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 10 requires 2-3/4 yards of 54-inch material with 2-1/2 yards of 39-inch lining.

Our large fashion magazine will help you economize. It includes styles for the miss, the stout, the matron and adorable models for the kiddie. Also modern embroidery for the home, lingerie, pajamas, etc.

Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin. Wrap coat carefully.

In 'As You Desire Me'
Responding to insistent demands from hundreds of patrons, Manager W. T. McGray has secured "As You Desire Me," the great Garbo picture, to return showing of three days, beginning this morning at the Rialto.

This picture attracted capacity crowds when seen at the Rialto some 10 days ago and many who desired to enjoy it were unable to gain admittance. It is said by many critics to be the greatest picture Garbo has ever made and all agree that it presents the greatest Swedish star in a role that shows her more nearly as she is in private life than anything she has previously played.

Added interest lies in the fact that it is the last picture she made before leaving America for her native land and if she decides not to come back, as she has threatened, it will be the last American-made picture for her.

New short subjects of exceptional interest are also on the new Rialto program.

Tone of the Markets.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(P)—Most financial markets today continued along the course they had charted yesterday, which meant lower prices for stocks and bonds and a dip of about $1.50 a bale for cotton.

Shares lurched heavily in the forenoon, but the 2 to 3-point declines suffered on that break—the year's severest and most active—found shorts ready to cover and a spirited afternoon rally ensued.

That rise lost steam just before closing time, leaving a general range of 1 to 3-point net losses. Sales aggregated 5,102,490 shares, a robust turnover even for these days of rejuvenated activity.

The Maine election result had become apparent by opening time and was the subject of wide comment in Wall Street throughout the day. Yesterday's severe reaction uncovered further stop-loss orders; also it doubtless encouraged considerable short selling, and with the market still vulnerable from the technical standpoint the retreat from Monday's final quotations was rapid. A harder one made its appearance just before noon and from then on leading issues ruled above their morning lows.

United States Steel, which had dropped to 41, or 4.58 lower, reduced its loss to 3.14 net. American Telephone cut a 4-point break to 13.8; American Gas a 5-point reaction to 2.12; and Santa Fe a 6.14 loss to 1.52. Auburn slightly more than halved a dip of 13.12. The average decline of 90 issues was 2.8, compared with yesterday's 5-point slump.

In the bond market, however, recovery, although there, too, some recovery from the lows occurred.

Shares have given up roughly one-third of what they gained during the summer. Thus they have at last met the setback which most sections of Wall Street opinion regarded as inevitable.

Firmness of leading foreign exchanges suggested that Europeans were selling in this market, presumably in the bond market, but the London and New York markets were not so much affected. The closing was heavy.

BERLIN—Prices on the bourse were weaker and the closing was slightly lower.

New York Curb Exchange Transactions

PALESTINE CUTS LOSS

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The curb market dropped precipitately in the early trading today, but touched bottom by midday and in most active issues, rebounded at least half way during the afternoon.

Trading was in huge volume, the turnover of 700,000 shares exceeding yesterday's 157,000, and surpassing any day's business in this market since last December.

Traders found many excuses for the drop, but the most general theory was that the market had gone ahead too fast. Utility shares were sold in large volume for a time.

By 9 o'clock, the market had recovered to 25 1/8, then tumbled to 20 3/4. American Gas, Electric recovered about half of a 5-point loss, and American Superpower, in the late trading, virtually erased a loss of 1 1/2.

The oils held up relatively well. Gulf recovered all but a small fraction of a 2-point loss, Indiana was off 3/8 at the finish. In the coppers, Newmont was off 2 at the finish.

CONDENSED CRUSHED SHOWS GAIN IN MONTH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—

Cottonseed crushed in August was reported by the census bureau today to have totalled 151,183 tons, compared with 59,877 tons in August last year, and cottonseed on hand at mills August 31 was 265,372 tons, compared with 61,279 tons a year ago.

Condensed products manufactured during August and on hand August 31 were:

Crude oil produced, 45,529,000 pounds, compared with 17,200,320 pounds produced last year, and on hand, 23,614,613 pounds, compared with 12,250,946 pounds a year ago.

Refined oil produced, 38,273,439 pounds, compared with 13,301,066 pounds, and on hand, 21,300,688 pounds.

Cracked and meal produced, 70,271 tons, compared with 28,341, and on hand, 97,481 tons, compared with 103,793.

Hulls produced, 43,184 tons, compared with 11,117, and on hand, 135,305 tons, compared with 11,117.

Linters produced, 21,332 tons, compared with 8,395, and on hand, 164,336 tons, compared with 164,336.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS
Want ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:
One time 20 cents
Three times 17 cents
Seven times 15 cents
Minimum, 2 lines (12 words).

In estimating the space of an ad figure six average words to a line. Ads ordered for three or more days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution reserves the right to revise or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directories. A memorandum charge only. In return for this courtesy the advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 75

Creeping slowly forward, the ape-man finally reached the sheltering shadows just inside the sentry lines. Stealthily he moved from building to building, when suddenly he was discovered by a large dog who came toward him growling.

Tarzan stood motionless beside a tree. He could see the dog was as large as Dango, the hyena. As he came on, Tarzan knelt. The dog shot through the air for the ape-man's throat. But he was dealing with no man now, for his quickness was more than matched by Tarzan's own.

His teeth never reached the ape-man's flesh. Fingers of steel seized the beast's neck. It gave a single, startling yelp, clawing at the naked breast before him, but was powerless. Just then the man in the open door yelled out.

Accidents Befall the Careful As Well as Careless Motorist

Now it's the maker of a brand of automobiles as thick as flies on a dog's back who fall victim to the accident, says Henry Ford, with his millions to protect himself and his careful policies of personal and business conduct, can't keep out of accidents, how can you hope to avoid disaster? If you will remember, some time ago he was in an automobile accident.

These accidents are likely to happen to just anybody, and while you have never thought possibly it would happen to you or members of your family, you will have to admit that these accidents come when least expected. If they do come, and you are not covered with Atlanta Constitution travel and pedestrian accident insurance, you can blame no one but yourself, for you have been warned day after day to protect yourself and family. Now is the time—today—for tomorrow may be too late!

The Constitution offers you the famous travel and pedestrian accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $150,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policyholders.

This insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for it through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Kirby, One-Time 'Baby Legislator,' Wins Fight on Forsyth List-Purging

J. H. Kirby, once known as the "baby legislator" from Forsyth county, and a candidate for the legislature, who is running on a platform of "vindication" following his conviction in an Atlanta robbery, Tuesday afternoon won a battle to retain 900 voters of the county on the registration lists, although he suffered a reverse at the hands of Judge John D. Humphries of Fulton county superior court, in a legal fight to retain the lists intact.

The former legislator charged that his political enemies sought to purge the lists of Forsyth county of his friends, and brought an injunction to prevent W. T. Merritt, chairman, and other members of the board of registrars from culling the lists.

Lovette Will Fight For Tenn. Nomination

GREENEVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 13. (AP)—Congressman O. B. Lovette, of the first district of Tennessee, defeated by former Representative B. Carroll Rice for the republican nomination for congress in the August 4 primaries, announced today he was the "party's nominee" and would be a "candidate until the polls close" November 8.

The Tennessee congressman charged that "the greatest frauds known to elections were perpetrated by the opponents in every county in the district where they had control of the primary boards, and in several counties where they did not have."

"I was nominated by the honest vote," he said. "I believe in party loyalty, but no party can survive on fraud and corruption. I would be dishonest if I did not resist to the last ditch this fraud on their rights."

Rice defeated Lovette in the primary by more than 1,000 votes.

TENNESSEAN FILES RE-DISTRICTING SUIT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 13. (AP)—Suits to test the constitutionality of Tennessee's congressional redistricting act, passed by the 1931 legislature, was filed in federal court today by John R. Neal, Knoxville attorney.

The suit was brought in the name of Charles Clay James, a citizen of Knoxville, as plaintiff.

Members of the state democratic and republican primary boards and election commissioners in each of the counties in the second district were named defendants.

MRS. R. C. CONGDON IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Former Prominent Atlanta Succumbs in Hempstead, L. I.

Mrs. Richard Cromwell Congdon, former widely known and socially prominent Atlanta woman, died Tuesday morning at her home in Hempstead, L. I. She was only 53 years of age. Her husband was formerly president of the Atlanta Gas Company and one of Atlanta's leading businessmen.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, with Dr. W. W. McManis, rector of All Saints Episcopal church, officiating. Interment will be in the family lot in West View cemetery.

Mrs. Congdon, with her husband, removed to Hempstead five years ago, after residing here for more than 20 years. Mrs. Congdon was president of the Atlanta Gas Company for 19 years, and is now an official of the Georgia Gas Company. She was a member of the Georgia State Bar, and was a graduate of the University of Georgia. She was born in Bethlehem, Pa.

During her many years in Atlanta she was a leader in society and was a member of the All Saints church. She and her husband were interested in associated charities and gave much of their time and money to aid the unfortunate. They were noted lovers of good horses, and entrants from their stables were winners of many prizes in society horse shows here and throughout the state.

Her husband was the great-grandfather of the late David M. Mitchell, twice governor of Georgia and one of her most distinguished early statesmen. Her grandfather was William Bacon Stevens, author of an exhaustive history of this state. All of her ancestors were distinguished in their service to the state and nation.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Congdon is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George Leslie Herrick of Beach Bluff, Mass., and a son, Mr. David Mitchell, of Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Congdon made their home on Myrtle before removing to Long Island.

Marriage Age Limits Raised for Manchukuo

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Sept. 13. (AP)—The Manchukuo government has raised the marriage age limits for men and women to 20 and 18 years, respectively, from the former limits of 18 and 16 years.

It was announced the step was taken in order that Manchukuo "shall have strong and healthy children."

The penalty will be punishment for parents who permit their children to marry before they are of age.

SYNOD'S WORK STUDIED AS CONVENTION OPENS

LAKE KANUGA, N. C., Sept. 13. (AP)—Work of the synod of Sewanee Protestant Episcopal church in education was discussed by church leaders tonight at the opening session of its biennial convention here.

The Rev. Gardiner L. Tucker, executive secretary of the department of religious education, told the convention the synod leads all others in leadership training.

Miss Anna Morton Stout, of Memphis, a member of the field staff, reported that the young people's conference held at Sewanee in August adopted a resolution in behalf of the world peace fund.

Bishop H. J. Mikell, of Atlanta, presided over the session.

THREE DEAD, ONE DYING AFTER CROSSING CRASH

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 13. (AP)—An early morning grade crossing crash here today resulted in death for three young people and a fourth was not expected to live.

Enland Canady, 22, and Miss Margaret Poter, 21, were killed instantly when the car in which they were returning home from a dance struck a shifting engine of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. Parker Armstrong, 24, died a few hours later in a hospital, while physicians said Miss Orin Olive, 31, had little chance to live. All were from Fayetteville.

Witnesses of the crash said a crossing watchman waved his light in an effort to stop the car as it approached, but that it swerved around him and ran into the locomotive.

Police said an inquest would be held later. They had not learned who was driving the car.

WHITE CO. MERGES WITH STUDEBAKER

Combined Net Assets Total $85,000,000, Says Announcement.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 13. (AP)—Announcement of the merger agreement of the White Motor Company of Cleveland, with the Studebaker Corporation, with combined net assets of $85,000,000, was made today in joint statements released by A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker Corporation, and R. W. Woodruff, of Atlanta, chairman of the board of directors of the White company.

The statements were released simultaneously in New York, Cleveland and South Bend following meetings earlier today of the White directors in New York and the Studebaker directors here.

"The merger of these companies is prompted by advantages in the purchases of materials and by an enlarged and intensified distribution," the statement said.

"These should result in immediate economies and widened sales, especially in White trucks and buses, through the larger organization of dealers."

"It meets today's requirements for a wide price classification in passenger cars and for heavy, medium and light duty motor vehicles."

"The terms of the plan provide for a payment on November 1, 1932, by the Studebaker corporation of $5 in cash, $25 in Studebaker 6 percent gold notes and one share of Studebaker common stock for each share of outstanding stock of the White Motor Company."

"The identity of the White organization and operating units will be maintained as well as the Studebaker, Pierce-Arrow and Rockne units. The White stockholders will have representation on the board of directors and executive committee of the Studebaker corporation. Studebaker officers will also go on the White board."

"The terms of the plan approved by the directors of both companies are subject to the approval of three-fourths of the outstanding stock of the White Motor Company and the deposit of this stock on or before October 15."

The net assets of the Studebaker corporation are $33,000,000 and those of the White company $52,000,000.

Mine 'Shock Troops' To Renew 'Invasions'

GILLESPIE, Ill., Sept. 13. (AP)—"Shock troops" of the Progressive Miners of America, newly organized union protesting the recently enacted $5 basic wage scale, tonight moved in a second offensive against three Illinois counties in attempts to close operating mines.

Arthur Hughes, press representative for the new union, said the striking miners first would seek "peaceful co-operation" of city and county officials before attempting to enter counties where miners were working.

The drive, he said, was against three counties—Franklin, Perry and St. Clair. Several mines are operating there under the wage agreement sponsored by the old union, the United Mine Workers of America, headed by John L. Lewis, international president and John H. Walker, Illinois district president.

Lancashire Strikers And Employers Confer

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 13. (AP)—Employers and union leaders joined today in their first meeting since the Lancashire textile strike began several weeks ago.

The meeting was arranged by Sir Henry Beltrone, minister of labor. His effort to help the government sponsor an attempt to arbitrate differences was accepted last week by both sides after a long series of negotiations without government participation had proved futile.

It was believed the labor minister sought to have mills reopened while the case was under way.

R. W. Leggett, government mediator, presented a plan for settlement today which was taken under consideration by both sides when the meeting adjourned.

30 Convicts Strike, Defy Tear Gas Bombs

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 13. (AP)—Thirty state convicts at a prison camp near Hosford, in Liberty county, tonight defied tear gas bombs in carrying out a strike begun earlier in the day by 65 prisoners.

All of the convicts at the camp refused to leave their sleeping quarters this morning, complaining about the quantity and quality of the food served at the camp.

Captain D. H. West and five guards at the camp called the efforts to persuade the prisoners to leave the barracks. Captain West notified the prison bureau here and ten gas bombs were dispatched to the camp, but were used without results.

Prison bureau officials here were advised tonight that 35 of the striking convicts came out of the barracks last night, but the remaining 30 piled beds against doors and windows, refusing to surrender.

Indicted Solon Given Vote of Confidence

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 13. (AP)—The senate by a 19-10 vote today adopted a resolution reaffirming its confidence in the official and personal integrity of Senator T. S. Faulk, of Georgia, indicted last week for conspiracy in connection with federal seed loans in 1929.

Prolonged applause, the first heard in the senate this session, arose from the desks of senators and the gallery as the gray-haired Senator Faulk took the floor to express his appreciation of the resolution.

"I thank you gentlemen for this resolution and ask you to withhold judgment until my case, has been acted upon in the courts."

Senator Faulk was one of 38 persons indicted by the federal grand jury last week in five southeast Alabama counties on the seed loan charges.

He testified he compared his extracts from minutes with the originals, and found indications "that in a large number of cases the minutes had been changed or rewritten."

Even as revised Noddor added, there still remained discrepancies. He said he was emphasizing that point because minutes usually are considered true records of official corporate actions, but that in these changes were made to "agree with actual corporate action as evidenced by the books of account."

Noddor presented an analysis of assets and liabilities of the Associated Gas & Electric Co., which has direct or indirect corporate ownership in 26 states, Canada and the Philippines, and also discussed writings on the books of the Associated Gas & Electric Co. for the year 1932, was owned by Associated Properties, Inc.

On August 31, 1927, Noddor said, Associated Electric Company, its books, listed stocks of several subsidiaries as worth $302,500. In November, 1927, the book value of these same securities was listed at $5,980,245, the examiner testified.

The sewer committee of council Tuesday afternoon declined to take any action on a demand for a referendum on a proposal to obtain federal relief funds for modernization of the sewer system of metropolitan Atlanta. Committee members said time should be given to see what can be worked out and if the money can be made available at once.

William A. Hansell, assistant chief of construction, released figures showing that the entire system would cost approximately $9,978,000, divided as follows:

Atlanta, $8,908,358; Avondale Estates, $29,934; College Park, $74,335; Decatur, $391,811; East Point, $85,811; Hapeville, $36,918; Fulton county (unincorporated), $121,072; DeKalb county (unincorporated), $29,934, under a plan evolved for establishment of a sewer district.

The White Motor Company and the deposit of this stock on or before October 15."

The net assets of the Studebaker corporation are $33,000,000 and those of the White company $52,000,000.
